ARMISTICE DAY MEMORIAL MASS MEETING

In commemoration of the great fact that Armistice Day stands for, there will be a memorial mass meeting at the New Park Theatre on Thursday at 12 o'clock sharp, under the auspices of the Brainerd Woman's Community Council.

A committee having charge of the arrangements for the celebration has arranged that the various church bells of the city be rung promptly at two minutes past twelve o'clock and ask that every citizen pause for two minutes in silent prayer.

Mayor F. E. Little will preside. There will be an invocation by one of the city pastors and community singing of patriotic hymns under the direction of the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Prof. W. C. Cobb and M. E. Scherich have signified their intention of co-operating and will have the students of the high school attend in a body. The American Legion will also attend en masse and the World War Veterans and G. A. R. and Woman's Relief Corps are invited to do likewise.

The different organizations of the city are urgently requested to attend the service and it is hoped that every citizen will see that there is some representative of his family present. The service will last less than half an hour which will give everybody time to have their lunch and get back to work on time.

The Chamber of Commerce will hold open house from 3 o'clock on. It is to be hoped that the citizens of Brainerd will do their utmost to help make the service a success. Two years ago we were right in the midst of our rejoicing at the very hour the service will be going on. Let us not be forgetful of the great service our boys, (those who are alive and remain with us and those who have passed on to their great reward) rendered us and pause awhile amid our busy workaday life and ask GOD to bless them and to continually bring to our remembrance His loving kindness and Mercy to our beloved Nation.

SUICIDE WRITES TO WIFE BEFORE ACT

(United Press)

Minneapolis, Nov. 10.—"I have just had a dizzy spell and had to open the window." These were the words written by Chas. Vogel, mill owner of New Ulm, in a letter to his wife before he hurled himself from a window on the ninth floor of the Radisson hotel Monday morning.

Coroner Seashort announced Vogel had committed suicide. The body was taken to New Ulm today for interment.

MEXICAN PRESIDENT ACTS PROMPTLY TO PREVENT BIG STRIKE

TAKES OVER PLANTS FOR GOVERNMENT OPERATION UNTIL TROUBLE IS ADJUSTED

RALPH TURNER,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Mexico City, Nov. 10.—President De la Huerta acted promptly today to prevent a general strike in the federal district.

The general strike was voted by the communistic federation of the Mexican proletariat, representing seventeen of the most important labor unions, in sympathy with the Vera Cruz dock workers strike.

Huerta announced the government would take over the stock and operate business until an agreement can be reached by the government, the workers and the ship owners.

CAR PLUNGES IN RIVER OVER CLIFF

(United Press)

St. Paul, Nov. 10.—Police today dragged the Mississippi river above the government high dam in an attempt to determine whether anyone was drowned when a stolen automobile fell over an eighty foot embankment. The car is believed to have carried one or possibly three persons. There is evidence that the car was driven at a tremendous rate of speed when it fell over the cliff.

PRE-WAR LEVEL IS REACHED BY FLOUR PRICES IN SLUMP

PRODUCT BECOMES PRIME FACTOR IN DOWNWARD TENDENCY OF LIVING COST

Minneapolis, Nov. 10.—Selling today in Minneapolis at $1.50 a barrel less than 10 days ago, flour was back at prewar levels. The quoted price of $9.75 to $10 for best family patents was within a few cents of that which ruled when the United States entered the war in April, 1917. With standard patents sold at $9.25 to $9.75 and lower grades proportionately reduced, flour became a prime factor in the movement of commodities to lower levels and the reduction of the cost of living. The price now quoted compares with $10.40 to $10.80 for best patents on Nov. 6 last Saturday, and $11.20 to $11.50 on the Saturday preceding that.

Meanwhile, potatoes, another important Minnesota contribution to the national market basket, were weak in the Minneapolis market. Wholesalers asking $1.80 to $1.90 a hundredweight for their sacked f. o. b. cars at country stations were receiving comparatively few orders, according to J. C. Famechon, potato wholesaler. Mr. Famechon called the market "not one that could be considered strong," and said that some sales were always going on below the quoted price.

Flour price drops were in line with the steady fall in the price of wheat in Minneapolis and other primary markets during the last few days. At $1.70½—the low price touched during today's trading in Minneapolis—December wheat was 33 cents under its price at the close of October, and a full 10 cents under the price at which it closed on Saturday, Nov. 6.

COLD SNAP BRINGS CALLS FOR WORK

HOWEVER TWIN CITY INDUSTRY REPORT FEW MEN LAID OFF

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Nov. 10.—The first cold snap of the year resulted in a flood of applications for work at the various employment agencies in the twin cities, managers said today. At the same time employers and commercial associations said that few workers had been laid off and asserted the movement is not sufficient to cause any uneasiness.

Roy Hilton, head of the industrial subdivision of the St. Paul association, declared St. Paul has suffered less from pay roll reductions than any other western city. Only a few factories have reduced their forces and in every case only a comparatively few have been released.

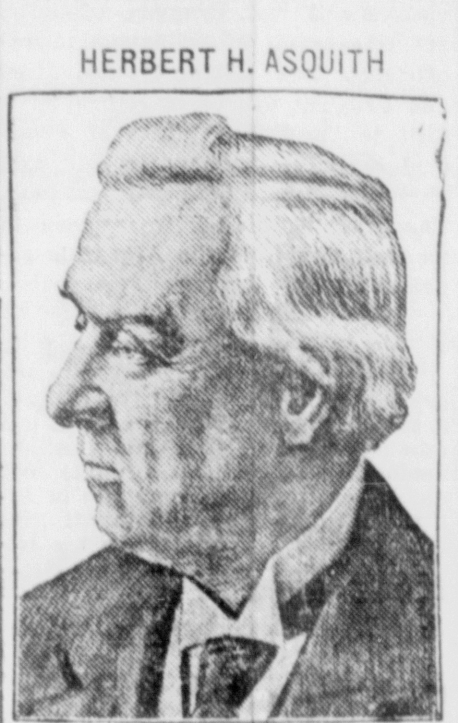

A. C. Sorenson, assistant manager of the joint federal and state free employment agencies, said the bureau has turned away an average of eight hundred men a week without jobs. "It never was so dull," said Sorenson, and there never have been so few jobs since pre-war days.

He attributed the flood of applicants to cold weather. He said men came in from the farms and small towns to the larger cities.

POLICE FIND 106 STICKS OF DYNAMITE IN EXPRESS OFFICE

(United Press)

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 10.—A package containing 106 sticks of dynamite was found in the American Express company office here today by police. Police were asked to search for the explosives by Sheriff Lutey of Deadwood, S. D., who wired he had arrested Carmillo Cocci, an Italian, who told him of the shipment. The dynamite was shipped from Trojan, S. D., to a man in Omaha, whose name police refused to divulge. The package had been in the express office since August.

HOUSE SHORTAGE DEMANDS SPECIAL LEGISLATION

BY CONGRESS TO ENCOURAGE BUILDING, SAYS COUNTRY'S HOUSE EXPERT

(United Press)

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Estimating that there will be five families for each four homes in 1925 unless building is speeded up in all parts of the United States, Wharton Clay, house expert, today declared that congress must pass legislation to encourage building.

Clay, who was to appear before the United States senate committee on reconstruction and production which opened the second day of inquiry here today into the housing situation in the middle west, estimated that several million families are now doubled up and that it will be necessary to build two million homes in the next five years to keep the housing shortage from going beyond the present level.

WILSON DECLARED 'GOOD LOSER' OVER LEAGUE REJECTION

PRESIDENT RELIEVED INSTEAD OF STUNNED OVER DEFEAT IN 'SOLENN REFERENCE'

Washington, Nov. 10.—President Wilson, now that the "solemn referendum" on the league of nations has been decided overwhelmingly against him, has settled stoically down to prepare his last message to congress, and to set the White House in order for Warren G. Harding, who will become the 29th president of the United States March 4.

Fears of many of Mr. Wilson's friends that an overwhelming verdict of the people against the league covenant would seriously affect his shattered health, were entirely unwarranted, according to those who have seen him daily since the election. Those who were apprehensive that the crushing defeat would precipitate a relapse have found to their surprise that the president has appeared a little improved in the last few days. Although they know him to be bitterly disappointed, they say that he has manifested no evidence of collapse and has had no word of bitterness in his utterances.

John W. Wilson, of Philadelphia, a cousin of the president, spent two days at the White House. He is authority for the statement that the president accepted the defeat philosophically and he gave evidence of relief now that the strain of the referendum was over. Mr. Wilson said he talked freely with the president about the result and said that the president accepted the verdict without a trace of anger. Secretary Tamm, commenting on the result, said the president was "a good loser."

HARDING FAILS TO LAND BIG TARPON; TRY AGAIN TODAY

CANCELS GOLF ENGAGEMENT TO HAVE ANOTHER TRY AT BIG FISH

RAYMOND CLAPPER

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Point Isabel, Texas, Nov. 10.—Undaunted by his failure to land a big tarpon after a forty minutes struggle, President-elect Harding ventured out into the bay again today to try his luck once more.

Senator Harding also spends considerable time consulting the best minds of this fishing village regarding cures for mosquito bites and sunburn, both afflictions having been visited on the president-elect as liberally as on the lesser persons here.

Senator Harding has taken to tarpon fishing, line hook and sinker. He cancelled his plan for golf today and was out at sunup and out on the bay where the best fishing is.

Had the trout line not broken Sen. Harding would have landed his big fish yesterday. Mrs. Harding does not fancy sitting out in a boat in the hot sun all day long so she spends her time in seclusion of the Creager cottage, dressed in the most comfortable light clothes and dividing her time between chatting with friends and her daily siesta. Although pioneer life was beginning to tell on some members of the party, most of them are roughing it with the greatest relish.

Both Hardings Catch Big Fish
Senator and Mrs. Harding caught their first tarpon today. Senator Harding's fish measured four feet and five inches. The fish which Mrs. Harding caught measured five feet, nine inches.

The senator battled fifteen minutes before he landed his tarpon. Mrs. Harding struggled thirty minutes to and her fish Senator Fred Hall of Maine, was in the boat with Mrs. Harding and helped her land the tarpon.

Mrs. Harding refused to go out yesterday but coaxing from other members of the party brought her out today.

"I don't know whether I will live through it or not," she said as she stepped into the boat. "But if I do I will get the biggest one of them all."

Japanese Abandon Chinese-Japanese Military Agreement

(By United Press)

Tokio, Nov. 10.—The diplomatic advisory council of Japan, which met yesterday, decided to move voluntarily the abandonment of the Chinese-Japanese military agreement. It was reported on good authority today.

This move was understood to have been decided upon as a means of giving China and the other nations of the world a better understanding of Japan's situation with regard to Asia. It was also understood that the council considered the question of racial equality and the California anti alien law at the same meeting.

Under the Chinese-Japanese military agreement, was the subject of much comment a few years ago when Japan wanted what China claimed was a controlling hand of the military forces of China.

JUDGE LANDIS MAY ACCEPT AS BASEBALL HEAD

(United Press)

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Judge K. M. Landis, who has been offered the position of chairman of the civil commission to govern baseball, was charging a jury in the United States district court here today when informed by the United Press that an agreement of baseball difficulties was in sight. The judge left the bench to get all details. He would issue no statement. Opinions were that the judge would consider the proposition more favorably after he knows there is complete agreement among various factions in the game.

SERIOUS CHARGES MADE AGAINST THE SHIPPING BOARD

RESULTING FROM TESTIMONY OF WITNESSES BEFORE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE

(United Press)

New York, Nov. 10.—The congressional committee investigating operations of the United States shipping board, had before it today several charges resulting from the testimony of witnesses at the opening of the hearing yesterday. Among the charges were:

Bribery of employees of the board by money or liquor.

Grafting by shipping officials in purchasing of supplies for shipping board vessels.

Padding of pay rolls by contractors doing work for the board.

Installation of defective machinery in shipping board vessels resulting in their becoming disabled at sea.

Disposition of "salvage materials" to companies in which stock was offered to government officials.

Collusive bidding by contractors. Most of the testimony was introduced by A. M. Fisher, clerk of the committee, and J. P. Richardson, special investigator.

18 YEAR OLD BOY HIRES YOUNG MAN TO MURDER FAMILY

SO THAT HE COULD INHERIT THE WHOLE FAMILY ESTATE

(United Press)

Norton, Kan., Nov. 10.—Carl Johnson, 17, made an unsuccessful attempt last Tuesday night to murder an entire family of five at Almena, near here, according to charges filed in district court here. He was to receive a fee of $200 for performing the act, according to alleged confession which involved an eighteen year old son of the family.

Young Johnson was said to have confessed that Elmer Heiserman, 18 years old, agreed to pay him $200 for killing the father, Jack Heiserman, his sister Faye, his mother, his grandmother and his brother. The family was to be exterminated so Elmer could inherit the estate, it was alleged.

The wholesale murder was planned at Almena, Johnson said. Elmer Heiserman obtained a small caliber revolver which he gave him to use in shooting the Heiserman family. It was alleged the victims were to be slain while eating supper.

Johnson approached a window, saw the whole family seated at the table and opened fire. He fired six shots, one shot wounding the sister Faye in the arm and another striking the grandmother in the neck. After firing the shots Johnson dropped the gun and ran. Jacob Heiserman gave chase. Johnson later was captured in Almena. At his preliminary hearing he is said to have made the confession involving Elmer. Following Johnson's hearing Elmer Heiserman was taken into custody. Both parties will have a trial in district court.

WALLIS' PLAN FOR THE DISTRIBUTION OF IMMIGRANTS APPROVED

(United Press)
New York, Nov. 10.—The response to Commissioner Frederick Wallis' suggestion that immigrants be distributed according to labor needs, has been immediate and general throughout the country, officials informed the United Press today.

State and municipal officials, manufacturing associations and farmer organizations have endorsed the plan and urged that the proposed system be made effective as soon as possible, offering all possible co-operation.

This plan contemplates the diversion of immigrants now flowing in at the rate of a million a year from the congested centers of population to sections where there is a demand for labor of specific classifications.

This would not only prevent additional congestion in larger cities and tend to reduce high prices and high rent, but would furnish farmers with skilled help.

Wallis said he hoped to have the plan in active operation shortly. The first step will be a series of tri-weekly lectures to immigrants at Ellis Island which will be instituted next week.

This week is Cloverland Lamb Week. Eat more lamb—the healthful meat. 1351f

Police searched Miss Sanders' room and found playing cards on a table with the indication she had been telling her fortune. The ace of spades, the death card, was found slashed with a knife. Police believe Miss Sanders had made up her mind to die before she met Harry N. Graver, trade commissioner for the Chicago Association of Commerce. The tragedy occurred in a downtown hotel.

According to police Miss Sanders was the ward of a Laredo banker and descendant of a Spanish family. She killed herself after Graver suggested to her that they meet no more.

Lowell Association

A good audience was in attendance at the Lowell meeting. The program of recitations and music were all well given.

Rev. H. J. Wolner, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, gave an address on "The Value of Entertainment". Stress was put upon the sort of entertainment needed. It should be uplifting.

Notice was given at all parent-teachers association meetings of a lecture which is to be given Tuesday evening, Nov. 16, at the high school at 8 o'clock, by J. R. Bachelor of Duluth. His address will be on the vital theme, "The Child's Leisure Hour". Every parent should make it a point to attend the lecture.

Whittier Association

At the Whittier school the high school orchestra played a selection under the direction of Miss Lydia Nelson. Miss Elizabeth Johnstone played a piano solo. Rev. Arthur C. Smith sang and F. B. Randall, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, gave a talk on "France and French People". The community singing was led by Mr. Randall.

Washington-Lincoln

The Washington-Lincoln parent-teachers association had one of the largest attendances in the history of local schools at the Washington school Tuesday evening. Over a hundred mothers, and children and several men were present. The evening was a most profitable one.

Mrs. Ben S. Armstrong presided. She appointed as program committee for the next meeting Mrs. Fleming, Miss Irene Lowey, Miss Garret, Mrs. Ellingboe, Mrs. R. M. Sheets. Refreshments were served, this feature of the evening being in charge of Mrs. Walter F. Kunitz and assistants.

So large was the crowd that the charming folk dances by second grade children and songs by first grade children were given in one room, other parts of the program in another, and refreshments served in a third room.

The primary children gave a dramatization of a story. Rev. Frederick Errington, pastor of the First Congregational church, gave a very interesting talk on the instruction of children and the value of setting them correct examples. A child's character is moulded by home influences. What mother says and what father does leaves its imprint on child life. Roland Jenkins Jr. sang very acceptably.

Mention was made at the meeting, as at all other meetings, of the lecture by J. R. Bachelor of Duluth on "The Child's Leisure Hour" at the high school Tuesday evening, November 16, at eight o'clock.

The treasurer requests that members bring money to pay for their membership tickets.

Ancient Pomp at Lord Mayor Show

(United Press)

London, Nov. 9.—With centuries old civic pomp and pageantry Alderman James Roll was today inaugurated Lord Mayor of London for the ensuing year. The picturesque "Lord Mayor's Show"—a two mile procession which annually dislocates traffic in the heart of the most congested districts of the city of London—attracted the usual masses of sightseers, although it is the customary thing for Londoners to shrug their shoulders and profess to regard it as a tiresome anachronism, "not worth going to see, my boy." However no Lord Mayor has yet been bold enough to cut out this expensive pageant, and it is certain that all true Cockneys would protest loudly if the ancient ritual was dropped.

Lord Mayor Roll is an insurance company magnate, having been managing director of the Pearl Insurance company, with which concern he was connected for fifty years. The son of a Norfolk farmer, he came to London as a boy of fourteen, and—as he puts it himself—"By hard work and a little luck" he worked himself up from the humblest position. He is a typical Englishman of the Dickinson style, rather like the late King Edward in manners and appearance. He is passionately fond of horses and coaching, and despite his 72 years is still a famous whip.

The office of Lord Mayor is no sinecure. Nor is it a profitable one, for although there is a salary of ten thousand pounds for the year, the occupant of the Mansion House generally has to spend four or five times that amount as official "Host" for the city of London.

Evangelical Aid

The Ladies Aid of the Evangelical church will be entertained by Mrs. A. Shepherd and Mrs. A. Shanks, Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Shanks, 421, 4th Ave., N. E. Friends are welcome.

The Ladies' Aid of Zion Evangelical Lutheran church, corner Main and Broadway, will meet Thursday afternoon at the usual place and hour.

GUNMEN SHOOT A FORMER CHICAGO ALDERMAN IN BATTLE

(United Press)

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Winfield Held, former alderman, and Joseph Tijamowska, a policeman, were both shot in a gun battle with two men found hiding under the front porch of the Held home. Neither were seriously hurt. The fight, authorities believed, was the result of a political feud. Tijamowska came to Held's aid when the two men attacked the former alderman. Both gunmen escaped.

Two Young Men are Arrested for Blackmail

(United Press)

Minneapolis, Nov. 10.—R. C. Steinmiller and Roy Pettijohn were held by police today following an alleged attempt to blackmail. The men told Dr. G. O. Black they were detectives employed by his wife and said to have asked $500 as their price for silence. Steinmiller marked some bills and gave them fifty dollars on account. Detectives traced the bills.

SELECTING A HAT

Choice Should Be That Which Suits Wearer's Type.

Style Authority Asserts Women Should Wear Millinery Suitable to Their Own Personality.

A hat need not be expensive to be becoming, but it must be well chosen. The attractive hat in every case is the hat which suits the wearer's type. Do not, advises a style authority, choose blindly a hat which happens to strike your fancy, and which looks well on the salesgirl. Rather study your personality and dress up to it.

If you are a woman of middle age whose features are beginning to show telltale lines, you should not wear a hat which turns sharply off the face, nor one with sharp angles. The soft, cloudy lines of a drooping brim, be it ever so small, will better suit your type and disguise some of those wrinkles. A flesh-colored facing is also a good friend of the middle-aged woman. It will take a surprising number of years off your life.

The American type of face looks best in a hat which is extremely simple. It may require some self-restraint to resist the appeal of that extra bow or flower for your new hat, but the result will be worth it.

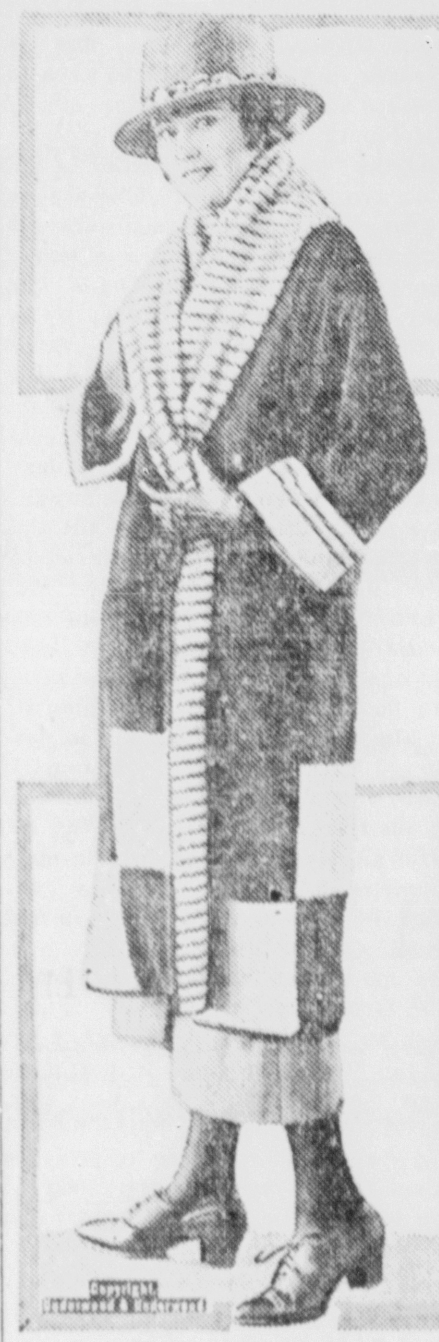

If you are the feminine, clinging-vine type of woman, you may wear feathers, flowers and lace. They are planned for just your type. You must be careful not to overdo it, however.

If you are inclined to be stout, do not attempt too much trimming and keep the brims of your hats narrow. Such trimmings as you do use should be piled high on the hat, preferably toward the back on the left side.

If you are of a nervous temperament, avoid all dangling trimmings. Such trimmings do not look well when they are in constant motion, you know.

The prettiest hat in the world will not look smart unless it is well cared for. All hats should be dusted when they are taken off and placed in a box where they will be out of reach of dust. Make for yourself a set of hat boxes, which will last for many seasons, and prolong the life of your hats indefinitely.

COOL WEATHER SPORT CAPE

At the football games and at the country club this sport wrap is just the thing to keep out the chill breezes. It is a knitted cape in orange and white and is made on fashionable lines.

PEPLUM IN AUTUMN FASHIONS

Adjunct in Present Season's Modes Is Accorded Distinct Place in Costume or Gown.

When the peplum arrived, decades ago, it was intended as a charm for the top of the skirt of a gown or costume, a deft bunching of fabric with spaces of apron—fetching indeed.

In this season's modes, the peplum is accorded an individual use as well as a distinct place in the costume or gown. It may be almost knee length, or may extend halfway. It may be in panels or may be gathered in ruffled semblance at the waist, attached as an apron, or plaited flat.

It is given the liberty of an overdress when made as a part of the gown—the waist and peplum together worn with a separate skirt. The peplum, as independent piece, can be adjusted with the skirts and blouses when hues harmonize—this is especially allowable when the peplum is black or white. Peplums in chiffon, georgette and crepe de chine lend themselves readily and charmingly to adjustments with costumes.

A red peplum gives a picturesque note to a black or white gown. A white crepe de chine gown of black georgette with a befrilled bodice is a stunning evening gown with the addition of a scarlet peplum.

Life's Preparation for Death.

Life is more important than death. In fact, the work of death can only be safely done in life. The practical truth is that which touches us at once, the most sober and solemn view of life, that every single thing we do is actually making death either harder or easier.—Faber.

BLOUSE OF STRIKING DESIGN

To complete her tailored suit milady might well choose such a striking blouse as this soft-toned one of broad-cast silk.

STYLES OF THE DAY

Fashion has by no means forgotten her love for bright colors.

Coats on practical utility lines are being presented everywhere.

Openwork hosiery still remains in vogue despite the high prices.

Scarfs of knitted silk or of some soft silken fabric are quite popular for early fall.

In next season's models the existence of a waistline is admitted, although no tightly fitted or extremely flaring garments have as yet put in their appearance.

The neck-pieces to wear with suits will be both large and small, and with a suit a muff to match is more frequently carried than with a fur coat. Muffs vary in size, the smart tendency being towards the plain, round one.

For afternoon wear are shown very charming long blouses of chiffon, lace, embroidery net and georgette. Velvet and satin blouses are well regarded as winter models for afternoon wear. Nail heads in steel or jet are featured as trimming.

NEW FALL UNDERWEAR STYLE

Two-in-One and Three-in-One Garments Brought Forward by Process of Elimination.

The modern process of elimination has brought about the two-in-one garment and the three-in-one piece designed to make one trifle of linen, crepe de chine or chiffon do service for several pieces.

There is, for instance, the knicker of satin attached to a fitted bodice-like camisole, from which hangs in turn a deep flounce of lace in lieu of the knee petticoat.

A second model has the nether section shaped like a chemise envelope, but much wider, the sides slashed and trimmed with a flounce of fine lace.

At the top the material is gathered into a deep self-band threaded with wide violet satin ribbon, the band flounced at the upper edge and attached to two wide bretelles of lace and chiffon—a wonderful model for wear with the evening gown, since the front and back of the upper part are free from fabric.

Little Girl's Skirt.

The little girl is getting her innings in the very latest mode of plaited skirts, and to the limit of being allowed to compete with big sister in the glory of big plaids. The little girl's big-plaid skirt is a surprise. It looks very demure in close little plaittings, a mere criss-crossing of colorings—and behold! the little girl does a bit of a hop, and that skirt flares into an ensemble of startling plaids that wouldn't be startling at all if big sister or mother had fluttered the revelation. This is one of the caprices in little girl's clothes this season.

Hats of Short Haired Furs.

Small hats of short haired furs are being prepared for early winter. Fur and ribbon are frequently combined. Usually broadened or metallic ribbons are used. Quantities of ribbons of all widths are seen, not only in conjunction with furs or velvet, but to make entire hats.

Worked for One.

In a little settlement upstate a number of the property owners had been talking about incorporating and making a town. So they called a mass meeting for the people to voice their opinions. Only one man opposed it. He said: "Gentlemen, I am not in for making a corporation of this place. My reason is this: I worked for one of them corporations once." Indianapolis News.

DELIVER NEWSPAPER BY AIR ROUTES

(United Press)

Altoona, Pa., Nov. 10.—The Pittsburgh Press recently introduced a method of delivering newspapers, new to the eastern section of the United States, when it instituted an airplane delivery between Pittsburgh and this city. The success of this first venture has led the Press to consider adopting this mode of transportation to several other towns where it has a large number of subscribers.

The actual flying time for the initial trip was one hour and 14 minutes. The fastest mail train takes two hours and 55 minutes to come here from Pittsburgh.

The large difference in time was in part due to the rail distance of nearly 120 miles being shortened by the machine soaring in a straight line over the Allegheny mountains, while the railroad is forced to circle the steep grades.

SOVIET COSSACKS MURDER AMERICAN RED CROSS OFFICER

(United Press)

London, Nov. 10.—Complications between the United States government and the bolsheviks were seen here today as a result of the reported murder of Captain Emmett Kilpatrick of Uniontown, Pa., a Red Cross man, by bolshevik Cossacks at Salvador station.

A dispatch from the Sebastopol headquarters of the antilbolshevik leader, Baron Von Wrangel, said that Kilpatrick and two other Red Cross men had been slain by Cossacks, believed to be part of the command of General Budenny, who took such a prominent part in the operations against Poland. The killings were said to have been marked by cruelty.

TURKEYS SCARCER THAN LAST YEAR, OTHER FIXIN'S PLENTY

Washington, Nov. 10.—Fixin's for the Thanksgiving dinner will retail at nearly pre-war prices this year, officials of the bureau of markets said today. Fixin's is a term used to include fruit and vegetables that accompany the turkey or fowl. Turkey probably will cost more than last year however. Turkey and other fowls are less plentiful than at Thanksgiving time last year, according to latest reports of storage holdings obtained by the market bureau.

REPORTS TO HOME FARMERS OF COUNTY

Bert Sabin, Delegate from Crow Wing County Farm Bureau and Member State Farm Bureau

CONCLUSIONS DRAWN BY HIM

Farmer is Greatest Consumer in America. Steel and Lumber Products and Other Supplies

(Contributed)

To the Farm Bureau members and to those who are not yet members: Greeting—as your delegate to the State Federation, I feel that I am in a position to give you some idea of aims and possibilities of Farm Bureau organization. We feel now that something has been done. In the first place the Farm Bureau has come nearer to being a complete organization of farmers than any other movement has ever been.

The American Farm Bureau Federation, recently organized, is the most significant farmer's movement in recent times. With about 950 County Farm Bureaus with a membership of nearly 2,000,000 farmers grouped together in the State Federation which are in turn linked together through the American Federation, we have probably the most extensive and powerful agricultural association in America. And while we look to the State and National organization to look after the marketing end of our problems we must not forget what has been done in our own county. Not the least of the benefits of the Farm Bureau is the good that is being done through the club work. The boy or girl grows to successful maturity, a pig, a calf, a flock of chickens, an acre of corn of his or her own, is not going to be in a hurry to leave home to get a job in town. Often the parents and neighbors get object lessons that convince them that modern methods are best and on such farms money stock is becoming a thing of the past. By urging the keeping of farm accounts it has shown him that he must be systematic to the same extent as the manufacturer, the merchant, or any other business man. It is collecting data on the cost of production by which we may prove to the world that the charge of profiteering we are "not guilty". As to the future plans, the National Federation has ordered its executive committee to organize the following bureaus: (1) Transportation Bureau. To look after the matter of transportation rates for farm products, both by rail and water, domestic and foreign. (2) Trade relations bureau, to look after our dealings with foreign countries. This should be of great value in solving the problem of wool prices. (3) Distribution bureau, to study the distribution of farm products. (4) Statistic bureau, to study world conditions of farm products. (5) Statistics bureau, to study world conditions affecting supply and demand, and to familiarize themselves with mechanics of prices. (6) Legislation bureau, to look after National legislation is so far as it relates to farmers and farming. (7) Cooperation bureau, to study cooperative methods and draw up standard forms of cooperative interprises. This ought, in part, at least, be an answer to the question, "What does the Farm Bureau propose to do?"

But can all this be done? That is a question that depends for its answer largely upon the individual farmers. In union there is strength, so we must obtain and retain a large membership and what is more important, every member must be loyal, must pull together, must boost. The organization has been arranged so as to get as close to the individual farmer as possible. Each community center has its director, each precinct its chairman and secretary. Each farmer should feel free to make suggestions to his committeeman or director who will take them up with the county board, and in this way every farmer is directly and individually represented, so the more members we have the more the Farm Bureau will be able to accomplish. Space will not allow me to tell you all the plans in process of construction for the betterment of our condition as farmers. The business we are engaged in is the biggest in the world. Did you ever figure any along this line? Take for instance your own township which contains 36 sections, or 23,940 acres, placing a valuation of $50 per acre, which is very conservative, you have a capital of $1,197,000. Add to this your equipment, your stock, horses, cows, hogs, sheep, poultry and your yearly crops, you will realize at once that you belong to and are a part of the biggest business in the world. Has this business paid you in dollars and cents for the capital you have invested? No! The reason is plain to all who are engaged in agriculture.

You have received less for your products than it cost you to produce them. In a way your farm had made you money by the raise in land values. Although your land has increased in value your taxes have increased also, as has the prices of your machinery your clothing, groceries and the labor you are forced to hire. Why are you the loser? Why are you getting into debt to maintain and operate a business that is a loss to you, when on the other hand you have apparently made money by increased valuation of your farm? The answer is a simple one. You grow the produce and the other fellow makes the profit on what costs you money and toil to produce, leaving you in debt and discouraged. Every thinking man will admit that the laboring man is worthy of his hire, and civilization will not long exist if a right and reasonable compensation is not paid for such labor. No one labors harder than the farmer; hours are an unknown quantity to him. His wife in helping to bear that burden, becomes an automatic piece of machinery and his children escape from a like fate by leaving the farm and engaging in pursuits more lucrative, and where they may have some hours free from the eternal grind, thus obtaining something in life more than a mere existence. The farmer does not get a square deal, but he has finally decided to get it, and he is perfecting the most complete machine the world has ever known, The American Farm Bureau Federation. Through it he provides himself with measures that are going to give him a fair market price for that which he produces.

The principal measure will be co-operation which means a fair and right price for what he has to sell and what the consumer of these products has to pay.

The farmer is the greatest consumer in America, he consumes three-sevenths of all the steel manufactured in the U. S., which is more than used by all railroads and of lumber he takes one half of the manufactured product. Why not become a member of a business you are interested in and one that you look to for your daily bread. Wake up, get in the game, join an organization that you can help to run and one that will pay you big returns on a small investment. The cost to you is $5.00, each year beginning January 1, 1921. The market the Farm Bureau is establishing in America will pay back your investment the first deal you make. Be a booster for your own business—don't tell the collector when he comes around to see you "well, I won't join yet; I'll wait and see what they are going to do". Get your shoulder to the wheel and help push your business out of the mire, don't expect to get on and ride free, help pay the way. Which would pay you better, to become a member of the Farm Bureau at a cost of $5.00 per year, where by you would save on what you buy and get a decent market for what you have to sell or stand out alone which means defeat and bankruptcy. We have got to do one or two things, either get together or quit the business. The Farm Bureau can save us and we need your help. Let's put Crow Wing county a the head.

Yours for the Farm Bureau,

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Let There Be No Discords

If your Ford car is out of tune, there is undoubtedly a very good reason for it. And the best way to find that reason, and have it remedied, is to jump in and drive to our authorized Service station, where one of our mechanics who is thoroughly acquainted with the Ford mechanism and who knows the Ford way to adjust or repair your car, can tune it up in a garage that is properly equipped to give real Ford service. Then, too, we never use imitation parts—only the Genuine Ford-made, strong and durable. They wear from thirty to seventy-five per cent longer than the counterfeit parts that are softer and more cheaply made. In fact it is dangerous to human life to use imitation parts, and it is not fair to your Ford car or your pocket book.

We are a part of the gigantic Ford Service organization whose purpose it is to serve the owners of all Ford cars and trucks; we have more than a passing interest in your car. Prompt service is given on all work—from a minor adjustment to a motor overhaul. Drive in and see the facts for yourself—there's too much money invested in your Ford car to miss connections with the authorized Ford dealers.

REPORT FOR THE YEAR IS GIVEN

Nurse Supervising Committee is a Joint Committee of School Board and City Health Board

FIRST MEETING SEPT. 10, 1919

Committee Personnel Given and Record of Work Done and Accounts Audited (Contributed)

The Nurse Supervising Committee is a joint committee consisting of the Health and Sanitation Committee of the school board and the City Board of Health and held its first meeting September 10, 1919. The membership consisted at that time of Dr. Reimstad, F. H. Simpson, C. H. Varner, Mrs. W. H. Gemmell, Rev. Eliot Carlson and W. T. McCloskey. During the year twelve meetings were held from September 10, 1919 to September 1, 1920. Mrs. W. H. Gemmell was elected chairman and F. H. Simpson secretary-treasurer. Dr. Greene, Dr. Burns and Miss Brink of the State Board of Health, assisted the committee in planning the work.

September 17th Miss Beyer was engaged as City and School Public Health Nurse. For one month Miss Beyer carried on the work transportation being furnished by different people, women mostly, who drive their own cars. This volunteer service demonstrated to these women the need of a car in carrying on the work of a Public Health Nurse in the city of Brainerd and they backed the movement to raise money for such a car. This car has been on duty continuously since and such was the weather last winter, there was hardly a day it could not be driven. February 13 Dr. E. F. Jamieson became a member of the committee in place of Dr. Reimstad who resigned June 9. F. H. Simpson resigned as secretary-treasurer, H. E. Kundert being appointed to fill the position of F. H. Simpson on the City Board of Health was also elected treasurer of the Nurse Supervising Committee.

An auditing committee was appointed consisting of Severn Swanson, H. E. Kundert and Mrs. W. H. Gemmell. This committee went over the accounts and found them correct. It was decided that the nurse should act in the future as secretary for the committee. Mr. McCloskey was appointed to take charge of the public health car.

June 9 the first meeting was held in the nurses office which had been set aside for that work by the city council.

In August Miss Beyer resigned and the application of Miss Michael was accepted.

Miss Brink, Superintendent of Nurses, State Board of Health, visited the office in September and found all records in admirable shape and spoke highly of the way in which the work had been carried on and established. Since then regular meeting have been held at which a quorum has been present and the regular routine business transacted.

TO THE SERVICE MEN AND CITIZENS OF BRAINERD

Thursday, November Eleventh, marks the second anniversary of the signing of the Armistice. To most of us and especially to those of us who saw service in the army or navy, Armistice Day, 1918, was the most significant day of our lives. It was the new Declaration of Freedom; the shackles of war time regulations were thrown off and a steady return to normal conditions began. Every soldier pictured on that day his return to his loved ones, and his loved ones pictured their soldier's return.

To those who did not return, let us pay honor and respect for they gave their lives that we might have Armistice Day. Some of those who gave their lives in France are now being returned to us and let us not forget our duty to them.

To those of us who have returned, let us mark this day as better citizens of our free land and let us dedicate ourselves again to God and Country.

Respectfully,

FRANZ R. N. ANDERSON, Com.

MOONSHINE KICKS CAR INTO DITCH

Costly Car of Two Bemidji Men Tears Through Bridge Near Swanville and Into Slough

SUITCASE WITH BOOZE IN IT

Men Not Injured and Continued Their Journey by Train to their Northern Home

(Little Falls Transcript)

Two Bemidji men returning from a purchasing expedition to Minneapolis yesterday found to their sorrow that a three-in-one combination was too much for their good fortune. The initial purchase made by the men equipped them with a new Revere Sedan of the latest type in speedsters. Subsequent purchases, it is said, provided them with considerable of the forbidden liquid which they endeavored to transport internally while driving the new car from Minneapolis to Bemidji.

As a result, one perfectly new, but seriously damaged Revere 6 lies in the bottom of a slough on the Swanville road about ten miles from town. The men themselves took passage out of the city by train.

Leaving Little Falls at 4 p. m. yesterday the car was raced in the direction of Swanville at a terrific speed. At 4:17 some 8 or 10 miles of country road had been negotiated with flying colors. A small bridge over a slough proved to be too small a target for the driver and the machine was hurled into the water. Neither of the men were injured and they were able to pick up a ride into Little Falls where they boarded a train. They made no statement as to whether they would again endeavor to negotiate the voyage.

Passerby at the scene of the accident noted a suitcase beside the machine and at last one venturesome soul investigated its contents and removed some of the fiery liquid which it contained. Others now regret the fact that they did not bother to investigate in person.

PROCLAMATION

In view of the fact that November 11th has not been proclaimed a National Holiday. Therefore, I, Charles G. Hill, President of Gunard Erickson Post No. 10 World War Veterans, do hereby request and urge that all ex-service men suitably observe the day as far as possible, and if they so wish wear their uniforms or medals in memory of the Second Anniversary of the closing of The Great War.

Special Notice

All Ex-Service men are requested to meet at the American Legion hall tomorrow Nov. 11th at 11:30 a. m. sharp to attend the Memorial services at the Park Theatre to be held promptly at 12:00 o'clock.

Come as your are—not necessary to dress up for this occasion, just be sure to come. 14

BRAINERD MUSICAL CLUB SATURDAY

Meets Saturday Afternoon, November 13, in Elks Hall of Citizens Bank Building

MILDRED LANGTRY, SOLOIST

Hostesses for the Occasion are Mesdames E. R. Smith, Dunn, Cleary, Jay O'Brien, Woodhead

The Brainerd Musical club will meet next Saturday afternoon, at Elks hall in the Citizens State Bank building. The second Saturday in the month is the regular meeting day, but the first meeting was held one week early because Miss Nitterauer was leaving the city.

At the last board meeting, the ladies decided to stay with the Elks, who had accorded them such generous treatment so many years. They appreciate the more than generous offer of the management of the Park theatre, but feel that a smaller hall would be more suitable for the regular programs, and would make for greater sociability.

The club piano has been moved to the new Elks hall and everything is a readiness for Saturday's program. The hostesses for this meeting are Mesdames Ezra Smith, H. P. Dunn, W. H. Cleary, Jay O'Brien and John F. Woodhead. A very fine soloist, Mildred Langtry, has been engaged and anticipation is running high. If there are any members who will be unable to attend this meeting, they should not neglect to give their tickets to friends.

Remember that the hour is 3 o'clock and promptness is almost a necessity on such a busy day as Saturday, so do not fail to plan for time enough to climb two flights of stairs. The program will be well worth the effort.

WEBSTER HOUSE TO COME DOWN

NEW HOME OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WILL BE ERECTED ON HISTORIC SITE.

HANDSOME BUILDING PLANNED

Remarkable Growth and Success of This Institution Through Which the Business of the Country Has Been Organized Nationally.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—The former home of Daniel Webster in Washington, better known as the home of the late W. W. Corcoran, the banker, in due time will be torn down to make room for a building to be occupied by the Chamber of Commerce, U. S. A. This is an ornate brick structure which rambles along H street, at the corner of Connecticut avenue. The tradition runs that the house was given to Mr. Webster by some friends. The original building was erected in 1825. Another unconfirmed tradition has it that the original structure was once occupied by Andrew Jackson. The house was built by Thomas Swan, who was district attorney for the District of Columbia from 1821 to 1823, and was succeeded in that office by Francis Scott Key.

The property stood in the name of Daniel Webster from June, 1844, until December 17, 1847, when it was bought by Moses Grinnell, who in 1849 sold it to Mr. Corcoran. He remodeled the place and added the east and west wings, one of which is noteworthy for having housed his excellent art collection, which there became the nucleus of the present Corcoran Gallery of Art. At one time Mr. Corcoran's mansion was the center of the most fashionable and distinguished society of the capital, and his entertainments were of the most elegant and costly character.

Site Bought for $75,000.

The site upon which this national home for business is to be erected has been paid for through subscriptions to date to the building fund of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. The site faces Lafayette square, in front of the White House. It was purchased at a cost of $75,000. The building will add to the architectural beauty of Washington. Work on the new structure is to be started as soon as the remaining $2,000,000 necessary for the project is received. A number of communities already have subscribed their allotment. Others are responding handsomely to the campaign.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States, a body founded eight years ago, has been unusually successful. But the leading business men of the country interested in the chamber of commerce have realized that not until they had a Washington home of their own—to give the aspect of material solidity to their organization—would they be able to exercise proper constructive influence in national affairs. With this in view, the chamber began plans in 1914 for the erection of a building in Washington, but the war caused postponement. Committees now are accumulating the money for this project, $1,400,000 being promised by small communities outside of New York and Chicago, before the business men of these cities gave a cent. The idea is to create a nerve center for all business, big or little, that is affected by national affairs.

Is a National Institution.

The institution will be national. The hand of welcome will be as cordially extended to the manufacturer or merchant from the Pacific or the Gulf, the Southeast, or the Northwest, as it will go to the man from Manhattan or Chicago. There will be only one standard, the chamber says, namely, what is for the benefit of American business as a whole.

The United States is one of the last countries to organize its business nationally. A little more than eight years ago this country and Turkey were virtually the only countries in the world which had no national business organization. Today the United States Chamber of Commerce is the most powerful of them all. In the last five years it has grown from an association of 655 industrial and commercial organizations with an underlying membership of 288,227 firms and individuals to 1,379 organizations with a combined membership of 691,358. Besides these organizations there are more than 13,000 firms and individuals holding direct membership in the chamber.

The national chamber determines the consensus of American business through the medium of the referendum. When the board of directors has decided that a question submitted to it is one affecting American business nationally, it refers the problem to a committee for investigation. If this committee after a careful study of the subject finds it important enough for a referendum, then this is recommended. The question is then submitted to the organizations which are constituent members of the national chamber and an expression of opinion is asked. The vote must be completed within 45 days from the date of mailing. The chamber never takes a position by reason of a mere majority of votes. To carry, any proposal has to command two-thirds of the votes which are recorded.

TWO NEW MINE STATIONS OPEN

ALL THIRTEEN AUTHORIZED BY CONGRESS AT LAST SESSION ARE NOW COMPLETED.

BIG HELP TO THE INDUSTRY

Co-operate With Mining Companies in Production of Minerals and the Solution of All the Difficult Problems Encountered.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—With the recent establishment of a mining experiment station of the United States bureau of mines at Rolla, Mo., with central office at St. Louis, to consider problems in the metallurgy of lead and zinc, and one at Tuscaloosa, Ala., with central office at Birmingham, to assist the mining industry of the South, especially in by-product coke and iron problems, there have been completed 13 mining experiment stations authorized by congress at the last session to aid the mining industry and to co-operate with the industry in the development of the nation's mineral resources.

These stations, designed to do for the mining industry what the agricultural experiment stations do for farming, are specializing on co-operation with the mineral industries peculiar to their territory, taking up the difficult problems encountered in the treatment of complex or low-grade ores, and assisting mining companies in bringing their products through the twilight zone of science into commercial success. Metallurgical problems which will add to the general welfare of the industry and the public are also considered. The bureau of mines refuses co-operation only when the benefits derived will accrue to some one individual or some single concern.

More Rare Metals Produced.

The claim has already been made that these stations, especially in western metal mining, have been instrumental in greatly increasing the production of rare and precious metals, which of course has resulted in the employment of more men. A notable increase in the production of radium in Colorado and also in such metals as molybdenum and tungsten has been due, some mining men claim, to the work of these stations. They, it is said, were factors in winning the war through the development of ore deposits of metals which were used for war purposes.

This work of aiding the mineral industry is continuing and the bureau, through its several stations, now has definite co-operative agreements with 40 mining and metallurgical concerns, universities and state organizations for the solution of industrial problems which will add to the prosperity and greatness of American mineral industries. The work of these stations has been growing so increasingly important and so much business is now being carried on with them by the industry that the stations have been reclassified and given definite names, so that there will be a better understanding of the work performed and a greater accessibility between them and the industries interested.

Each Station Has Special Work.

The experiment station at Bartlesville, Okla., will continue as the center of the petroleum experiments, and will continue to be known as the petroleum experiment station. The metallurgical treatment of ores common to California and adjacent states will be dealt with at the Pacific station at Berkeley, Cal. Experiments relating to ceramics and the clay industry will continue to be carried on at Columbus, O., which will continue to be known as the ceramic station. The Alaskan station, dealing with problems of the mining industry of Alaska, is located at Fairbanks. Problems connected with the mining and beneficiation of low-grade iron ore, manganese and other ores of the Lake Superior district will be dealt with at the north central station, at Minneapolis, Minn.

Coal mining in all its phases, including mine safety, first aid and mine rescue work, the testing of explosives and the metallurgy of iron and steel will constitute the chief work of the parent station at Pittsburgh, Pa. The station formerly at Golden, Colo., has been moved to Reno, Nev., and will be known as the rare and precious metals station. The station at Seattle, Wash., dealing with the problems of mining and utilization of coal and the treatment of non-ferrous ores of the Pacific Northwest, will be known as the Northwest station. The station at Salt Lake City, Utah, engaged upon experiments with the complex and low-grade ores found in that part of the country, particularly those of lead and zinc, will be known as the intermountain station.

The metallurgy of ores common to the Southwest and especially the treatment of low-grade copper ores constitutes the principal work of the station at Tucson, Ariz., known as the Southwest station. The station at Urbana, Ill., dealing with the coals of the central district fields, will be known as the central district station. The station recently established at Tuscaloosa, Ala., will be known as the southern station, and that at Rolla, Mo., will be known as the Mississippi valley station.

NEW BASIS DUE FOR THE HOUSE

APPORTIONMENT BILL WILL BE PREPARED WHEN COMMITTEE GETS CENSUS FIGURES.

THESE ARE NEARLY COMPLETE

Congress Will Discuss Changing the Number of Representatives and Also the Old Time Issue of Southern Representation.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—The bureau of the census has promised to supply the committee on the census of the house of representatives with the complete 1920 population figures for the United States soon after congress reconvenes in December. With these statistics in hand the committee will prepare a bill for a new house of representatives apportionment. Under a provision of the federal Constitution this apportionment must be made every ten years immediately following the decennial census.

It will be incumbent on the various state legislatures to reapportion the states for congressional purposes in accordance with the basis of representation fixed by congress. About 70 per cent of the state legislatures will meet next January and congress will agree on the new basis of representation in time to enable the legislatures to make the state reapportionments before their sessions.

Two questions will present themselves to the federal legislators in dealing with the subject. The first and the really important one will be whether the size of the house of representatives shall be changed. Under the 1910 apportionment the house of representatives is made up of 435 members. The membership is so large as to make the body unwieldy and it is reasonably certain that there will be argument put forth in favor of reducing the membership to about 400. On the other hand there are advocates of a larger house, and the committee on the census when it sits down to write the new apportionment bill will be confronted by a demand that the membership be increased to 500.

Basis of Representation Higher.

The present basis of representation is 211,877. This is to say that under the 1910 legislation there is one member of the house for every 211,877 inhabitants. The basis of representation will undoubtedly be increased in the new apportionment. It will probably go up to 240,000 or 250,000. The 1920 population statistics for a large number of the states are now complete by congressional districts and they show that a number of states, under any such apportionment as congress is likely to make will lose members. The census bureau unofficially estimates the total population of the United States at 106,000,000. This would be an increase of approximately 14,000,000 in the ten years. If any states are to lose representatives under the new apportionment, then it is evident that some 65 or 70 new members must be added to the 435 now provided for.

Every decade since 1790, with the exception of 1840, the house membership has been enlarged to keep pace with the growing population. Now the house floor is crowded when all the members are present. So it will be seen there is a physical problem to be dealt with.

Southern Question to Come Up.

The old issue of Southern representation in congress will be raised when the new apportionment bill is brought before the legislative body. It is a subject that has been brought up and debated in connection with every congressional reapportionment since the Civil war. Ten years ago E. D. Crumpacker of the Tenth Indiana district led the fight for a reduction of Southern representation. He was chairman of the house committee on the census. He was supported by a large number of representatives, but failed to gain sufficient support to get the legislation through.

Up to this time the present committee on the census, so Representative Siegel of New York, its chairman, says, has not given any thought to the question of Southern representation. The public men who advocate a change in the basis of representation would enforce the fourteenth constitutional amendment. Such a change in the basis of representation would, of course, cut down the representation in a good many of the Southern states.

There is small probability of the subject getting beyond the stage of debate in the house of representatives. Heretofore when the change has been proposed most of the members of the house from the North have opposed it.

The house of representatives which will be elected next month will be the last one elected under the 1910 apportionment. Practically all the men elected to the house in November will be interested in the change in districts which their respective legislatures will make early in the coming year. Not so many years ago political parties did not hesitate to try to take advantage in redistricting for congressional purposes, but of recent years there has been much of this gerrymandering done.

This week is Cloverland Lamb Week. Eat more lamb—the healthful meat. 135tf

WHAT TOM GIBBONS THINKS OF CARPENTIER

(By TOMMY GIBBONS)

St. Paul, Nov. 10.—I have noticed a considerable difference of opinion among sport editors in various metropolitan cities regarding the bout which has been arranged between Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion and Georges Carpentier, European champion and challenger. There has been some comment upon my demand for a bout with Carpentier before he meets the champion. Some of this comment has been favorable to my point of view.

I am willing to admit that the bout between the Frenchman and the titleholder will probably be a good "money match." It is true, perhaps, that the boxers, their managers, and the promoters would have nothing to gain and possibly a lot to lose by permitting Carpentier to meet one of Dempsey's challengers before he fights Dempsey.

But my position is that the fans

"pay the freight." They have made boxing; their demand for clean sport has elevated the game beyond its former plane. They want real matches and particularly real championship matches. I venture to say that nine out of every ten fans who pay real money to see big bouts will indorse my declaration that Carpentier should be put to a greater test in America than he has been put to, before he is matched with the champion.

I hope to meet Dempsey in 1921. I have no doubt that I shall obtain a match with Carpentier AFTER he boxes Dempsey, but I believe it would be more satisfactory to the boxing public, if such a bout were arranged before the title fight. Dempsey and Carpentier are matched—and therefore, it is probable that the arrangements will not be changed. But I should like to know why Tex Rickard promoter of the bout, asked for my terms for a bout with Carpentier and immediately discontinued negotiations after my manager, Eddie Kane told Rickard to fix his own terms. Kane is in charge of my affairs and I believe he acted in a sincere clean cut manner that will be indorsed by boxing fans throughout the country.

Baltic Revel.

In the Baltic countries the Eve of St. John is a festival that goes back further into time than the celebration of the day in honor of the saint whose name it bears. For St. John's day is also Midsummer day, and on that night over wide stretches of country it is the immemorial custom of peasants, gathering together in little companies, to light beacons on the hilltops and to celebrate far into the morning with feasting and dancing. In Livonia there is but little night in midsummer, and here the peasants hold their revel at midnight, lighting great fires on hilltops that flare their signal to others lighted on hill crests for miles about. Under the glare the peasants gather. They challenge one another to sing. With torches they light the topmost branches of birch trees that set up higher beacons than any in the countryside. When the dancing is over great feasts are held, and when morning comes the crowds go singing to their homes.
